The Magic of Personalized Design

Known for introducing a near magical touch of raw and natural beauty to an often busy LA landscape, Gabrielle Aker believes every client has a personality worth showing off. When she walks into your space, she'll show up with a perfect mix of whimsy and creative intuition—two traits that she masterfully wields in order to mirror her clients' personal tastes with near precision.

As an outgrowth of her commitment to personalization, Gabrielle relies on local vendors who champion kindness, integrity and pride in craftsmanship.

"We could use the larger big-box stores, but our clients value original design, and our vendors are sourcing and creating pieces with incredible stories and lifelong value," she says.

Convinced that high-end design shouldn't ever deter clients from dreaming big, Gabrielle works hard to make sure her clients feel like they're an integral part of the process. "One of my favorite parts is helping our clients show off their dream space," she says. "So we help them celebrate with a customized housewarming party."
